RECALLS UPSET . . . The last presidential campaign when President Truman snatched victory from the jaws of defeat was recalled when the chief executive was presented with a Norman Rockwell oil painting and a bronze plaque by the national council to combat blindness for his efforts in furthering the cause of eye research. The painting depicts a husband and wife debating over the breakfast table. Husband is a Dewey man and wife is all for Harry.

Indian Summer

While reading the current issue of Holiday magazine, we found an interesting article in regard to Indian Summer. The author, Donald Peattie, opened his writing with the statement that our fall is the finest in the world, and the most truly native season we have; that Indian Summer is one of fall's bright riddles.

Many people perhaps do not realize how the term "Indian Summer" originated. The author relates that Indian Summer dates back to an annual practice of our native Americans. During the fall season, when game was fittest, the Indians liked to hunt to obtain meat and supplies for their families for the long winter season. In order to get the game to come out of hiding, the red men would set fire to the underbrush and parades. Gradually the smoke and fire spread eastward, giving rise to the smoky, hazy atmosphere now called Indian Summer.

Although the Indians as a race are practically gone, Indian Summer still remains with its beautiful colors created by the early frosts—as it were, a last fling of summer before making her exit.

Often at this season of the year, smoke from forest fires in the north fills the air with a hazy screen, bringing a reminder to us of the early red men who gave the name to this season of the year.

Waffle and Sausage Supper

Important Event of Week
Friday, October 13, is the day when all bad luck is supposed to come along! But Cedarville High band says that's not true, cause Friday is the day the Band will have a big Waffle-Sausage Supper, which will be served to the public from 6:30 to 8:00 p. m. in the cafeteria.

Following the supper, there will be an hour of entertainment in the auditorium furnished by some of our talented band members.

Freshmen Initiation

Event of Indian Summer
In keeping with the season, the sophomores chose Indian names and customs to carry out their initiation of the freshmen.

Typical names given to the ninth graders for the day were: Black Cloud, Little Arrow, Little Oak, Little Fox, Tee-pee, and Rain Cloud.

For the benefit of those unfortunate individuals who were not present for the austere occasion, let's picture the beautiful girls, dressed according to sophomore dictates, with burlap-sack pants; with 12" shields across their blouses on which were inscribed their names; shoes with no socks; hair neatly divided in two braids and tied with 2" ribbon and brightly colored feather. Their make-up was placed with great care on the nose; three marks crossed the cheek from the nose, extending two inches; and for convenience their books were carried in buckets on their backs.

To complete this attractive picture, a big, juicy onion was tied neatly around the neck.

The boys were wearing burlap shirts and skirts, with shield name-plates similar to the girls; around their necks they had beads and a big, juicy onion. They wore the hair in pin curls, and carried doll-babies in a bucket on their backs.

Both the girls and boys carried Oats Boxes for tom-toms.

Novel entertainment was provided during an assembly Wednesday afternoon for the high school pupils.

To start the assembly off right, the freshmen entered the auditorium crawling backward on their hands and knees.

Highlights of the program were an Indian Wedding, difficult races of various description; a special initiation of new faculty members; and the most hilarious stunt featured four Indian braves feeding each other roasted marshmallows having paper in them.

To teach the freshmen the attributes of politeness, they were required to say "How" and bow to every sophomore they met.

School Fall Fair

Held Last Week

Cedarville chapters of the FFA and FFAA sponsored their seventh fall fair at the school building on Friday, October 6.

The large display in the school gymnasium included 500 exhibits of excellent merit. Pupils receiving first and second prizes for the greatest number of entries were: Stanley Abels, $5.00, and Dale Stover, $3.00.

The climactic event of the evening was the crowning of FFA and FFAA king and queen. Martha Purdin was crowned queen, and her attendants were Janice Hopkins, Aileen Williamson, and Myrtle Vest. Stanley Abels was crowned king, and his attendant was Jimmy Turnbull.

Following this ceremony, refreshments were served in the cafeteria by FFA and FFAA members, directed by Mrs. Marshall, home ec teacher.

ON THE SPORT SCENE

Ross vs. Cedarville

Wednesday, October 4, Ross defeated the Indians 5 to 4, in a very close ball game. The Panthers scored in the first inning to take the lead 2 to 0, while in the third, Cedarville tied the Panthers, and then took the lead in the fourth, making the score 4 to 2 in their favor. In the last of the sixth, Ross scored three more runs to put them ahead 5 to 4, which score the Indians failed to match.

Cedarville played Bowersville on Friday, October 6. In this one-sided encounter the Indians took the lead and kept it until the end, defeating Bowersville to 0.

Other League Play
Jamestown met the Golden Eagles at Bellbrook on Saturday morning, October 7. This game was of interest generally, as it was to be a deciding factor in county league standing.

If Jamestown came out ahead, there would be a play-off for first place, and the losing team would take second place; but in case Jamestown lost, there would have to be a play-off for second place, with three teams tied. The Eagles defeated Silvercreek 16 to 4, the game being quite an upset for Jamestown. As a result, Spring Valley took first place, and Silvercreek has a chance for second place, along with Cedarville and Ross. The winner of this berth will accompany the Spartans to the district tournament.

Greene Countians Win in State 4-H Club Contests

Roger Horney, a member of the Clifton Flying Farmers 4-H club, near Clifton, has been declared state winner in the 4-H meat animal contest in competition with livestock members from all over the state of Ohio. The selection was based on the quality of his 4-H winning projects and the manner in which the project was developed from a breeding gilt eight years ago to the present project program of a farm herd. Other factors considered were his leadership record as a junior leader, and assistant advisor, and his participation in health, safety, demonstrations exhibits, and other 4-H activities during the past eight years.

Roger will receive a 17 jewel watch for his accomplishments in this area. In addition, his records will be submitted for consideration in the sectional contest made up of one of the four agricultural extensions in the United States.

Yellow Jackets Lead Three Times, Lose To Beavers In Last Three Minutes, 27-21

Coach Mendell E. Beattie must have had the "Wesley Fesler" blues Friday night as he watched his team lose the lead several times, and finally the game—chiefly because of an inadequate pass defense. The same weakness caused Ohio State's loss to Southern Methodist last week.

The victory was especially sweet for Bluffton fans, as it was their first gridiron win in two years. The Beavers give a great deal of credit for the win to their new coach, Kenneth Mast, in his first coaching job.

For much of the game, it appeared as if Darrell Coe's talented toe would spell the difference between victory and defeat for the Yellow Jackets. Despite several bad passes from center, Coe split the uprights each time. Homer Burton's 36-yard off-tackle run gave C. C. an early lead. Bill Gleason then returned the kickoff 84 yards, to pay dirt, but the TD was called back part way because of B. C. clipping. Charlie "Choo Choo" Spencer then reeled off a 29-yard run, and scored from the 7 early in the second quarter. The conversion attempt failed, to give CC a 7-6 lead at that time.

Gleason and Spencer, two who gave the Jackets a bad time all evening, combined with a pass and run totaling 65 yards to put the Beavers ahead. Spencer's conversion made it 13-7.

Lloyd French climaxed a C. C. scoring drive with a TD thrust from the one in the third, and Coe converted, putting our boys ahead again, 14-13. Then came another Gleason pass, with the Jacket safety man in front of Spencer, who took the pigskin all alone and jogged over untouched. The play covered 65 yards. Choo Choo converted to make it 20-14, Bluffton.

The Jackets couldn't be denied as they drove relentlessly to a 21-20 lead in the fourth quarter, Ray Pater finally lugging it over from the three. Coe's kick was good. Cedarville just could not stop the Gleason-to-Spencer aerial attack as the Beavers marched down the gridiron, Dick Rosenberg taking the TD pass from Gleason with less than three minutes left.

The waning moments of the game saw the Cedarville personal fouls, which permitted the Beavers to make their last kick off from the Cedarville 451. Quarterback Jim Wagner was injured in the first half; sub Ed Waite did a good job of masterminding the Jackets the second half.

Before the game, the Beaver fans were moaning over the absence of two stars—Allison, with a broken jaw, and Frost, on honeymoon for the second straight game. (We couldn't understand how any college can allow a student to take time off for a honeymoon in the midst of a semester. The Bluffton students couldn't understand it too well, either.)

The loss leaves the Jackets with a 0-3 Mid-Ohio League record, and a 0-4 season mark. They will invade Pelee in a league fray this week, and will travel to Huntington, Indiana the following week. Both the league and seasonal records will improve in these two weeks, we believe. All bad things must come to an end, sooner or later!

Taft, Ebricht, Brown Speak At GOP Rally

In spite of the torrential rains that played havoc with the plans for an ox roast, some 2,000 persons from nine counties attended the seventh district GOP rally at the Greene county fairgrounds Monday night.

Popular Robert A. Taft, candidate for re-election to the U. S. senate, received raptures of approving applause to his patriotic address, and addressed the Congressmen, Clarence J. Brown and Don Ebricht, GOP candidates for governor, were received with no less enthusiasm.

Taft called President Truman "a political captive of the parlor pinks, Reds and fellow travelers," accusing him of selling out at Yalta "under the influence of such men as Alger Hiss and Lee Press-man." Hiss is doing time for pre-judging and Pressman confessed belonging to communist-controlled groups.

Light up Outside

for easier, safer, more profitable farming

On the John Mohn Farm, R.R. 1, Spring Valley, Charles Martin puts up a farm yard light on the milk house.

Modern Lighting for the farm yard, dairy barn, milk house and other farm buildings is just as important as eye-saving lighting in the house. For most of the year, morning and evening farm chores must be done by artificial light. When there's plenty of light to see where you're going, what you're doing, work goes faster, easier, cleaner—and safer. Modern lighting is an essential farm tool, one that helps in many ways.

Besides the general convenience of a well-lighted farm yard and properly lighted farm buildings, good lighting discourages prowlers, reduces fire hazards. It increases production by lengthening the feeding and watering hours, thereby stretching the work day of poultry and farm animals.

The center distribution pole is the ideal place for the main yard light. A lamp, at least 200-watt, in a weather-proof reflector and mounted 15 feet or more from the ground throws a good light over a large area.

If anyone on your farm stumbles around in half-dark to do chores, talk over plans for lighting improvement with your county agent or with the farm representative of your electric service company.

Who Runs America?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where science, not politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, the Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| General Federation of Women's Clubs       | American Legion                            |
| American Farm Bureau Federation           | National Association of Small Business Men |
| National Grange                           | United States Chamber of Commerce          |
| Veterans of Foreign Wars                  | National Association of Retail Grocers     |
| National Conference of Catholic Charities | National Retail Dry Goods Association      |
| American Protestant Hospital Association  | American Bar Association                   |

Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this American excursion into State Socialism. Doctors America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. And the thing they are ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. Today

America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance. Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

Typing Records Made

During September

Several Typing II students achieved high records the first month of school. In the one-minute tests, records were posted as follows: Shirley Powers, 91 words per minute; Glenna Nance, 78; Mary Jo Duval, 65; Janet Crumrine, 55; Martha Swaby, 55; Sally West, 52; Robert Boroff, 50; all tests being perfect.

In the five-minute tests Shirley Powers typed 67 net words with one error for the five minutes of writing.

During the first six weeks' period, the typing class has had a review of the primary skills involved in horizontal and vertical centering; tabulation, typing from rough draft, letter and manuscript form; and they have started the use of printed office letterheads and other business forms.

Six Weeks Period Concluded
This week will end the first six weeks of school. Pupils are being given tests to determine the progress which has been made.

Junior Class Rings Received
Members of the Junior Class were quite pleased Thursday when they received their long-awaited for class rings.

The rings were ordered from the Joston Company in May of last year. The students have been looking forward to getting them since school started in September.

Thursday and Friday they were proudly displaying the newly acquired jewelry to other members of the school.

Settle $51,580 Damage Claim Out of Court

A common pleas court jury trial in the damage suit of Wayne Cline, Sabina, R. R. 1, and the Grange Mutual Casualty Company, Columbus, against Sgt. Charles H. Wassenich of the Wilmington post of the state highway patrol ended abruptly Tuesday morning when a compromise agreement was reached.

Counsel for the parties decided on a settlement, in favor of the plaintiff, after jurors had been seated for the second day of the trial which opened Monday. Amount of settlement in the $51,580 suit was not disclosed.

The suit was based on an accident, involving an auto driven by Mr. Cline, and a patrol cruiser operated by Sgt. Wassenich, at the junction of Zimmerman road and Orchard Grove road, two miles southeast of Bowersville on Oct. 26, 1947. Both men were injured.

The Xenia law firm of Wead and Aultman represented the plaintiff, Sgt. Wassenich was defended by Estabrook, Finn and McKee of Dayton and Smith McCallister and Gibney of Xenia.

Stopped at Crash Scene; $5,200 Is Missing

A purse containing more than $5,200 in checks and cash was reported missing after a couple's auto was halted at the scene of an accident on Route 35, about 2 miles west of Jamestown, Friday, the sheriff's office revealed. The woman whose purse was lost, Mrs. Pal Owens, Piquette, R. 1, told deputies her husband had stopped the car to avoid crashing into another auto which had been involved in the accident. She said she missed the purse a short time later, but it was not found when the couple, aided by state highway patrolmen, searched the vicinity.

The purse contained a bank draft for $5,000, a money order for $77, a U. S. government check for $78.71 and about $100 in cash. Banks in this area have been notified of the loss and serial numbers on the checks have been placed on file.

Editorial

IMPORTANT

How you vote is your own private and personal privilege—your right and your choice. That you make certain to vote is of national concern. A democracy can exist only by participation of its citizens in its affairs. At the last general election less than 50 per cent of citizens eligible to vote took the opportunity to cast a ballot. Remember—voting is not only a privilege, it is a duty.

A WAR IS A WAR

Few persons look upon the Korean incident as a skirmish. True, given time to gather the strength and strategy, the UN forces (American, that is) marched through the opposition in its usual fashion. But the end is not yet. What to do with a situation once we conquer the military might of a nation has always been our problem, and how the problems increase in number and intensity!

OLEO VS. BUTTER

Remember the butter vs. oleo squabble, and how the butter folks predicted oleo would put them out of business—colored that is—and the oleo predictions that sales of oleo would increase about 50 per cent? Neither was right, and both were quite wrong. Oleo sales are up about 5 per cent, and butter sales are up more than that. The Wall Street Journal, the big butter and egg newspaper, says so. What squabbles we folks are!

NEW TAXES

Don't shrug your shoulders and imagine the new taxes are going to miss you. They are not. They are going to hit you right in your pocketbook. Some 25 million workers will have more deductions taken from their pay envelopes, and with less money than they had before they are going to ask for more money, and the merry-go-round will hum only faster. Individual taxes are up. So are corporation taxes, and that means higher prices for everything to everybody.

OHIO IS BUILDING

Figures show that Ohio's expenditures for schools and highways was up 50 per cent over 1947. Highways cost more than any other item of state expense. And still the roads are far from perfect. Many are not even good. Prices of material and labor have increased terrifically since the war. In 1949 it is predicted that the largest item on building expense by the state will be for school houses and public hospitals and state institutions.

LAND BOOM?

Predictors are busy foretelling a boom in the price of land. With war much nearer than the rumor stage, and with commodities zooming higher and higher all the time, prophets who foretell profits insist that land prices will go up. A farm over in Clinton county recently sold for $225 an acre—a large farm too. One thing is certain—the farmers who bought land at fabulous prices in the 20's and saw its value decline to a fraction of what they paid for it won't buy any high-priced land without paying cash for it.

CONFIDENCE

A high-up in WDC resigned because he didn't have confidence in the top-drawer men of the department. His doubts increase ours.

JEFFERSON SAID

In 1800, before he became president, Thomas Jefferson wrote to a friend. Among other things he said this:

"I said to President Washington that if the equilibrium of the three great bodies—legislative, executive, and judiciary—could be preserved, if the legislature could be kept independent, I should never fear the result of such a government; but that I could not but be uneasy when I saw that the executive had swallowed up the legislative branch. 'When all government, domestic and foreign in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another, and will become as venal and oppressive as the government from which we separated.'"

We wish the great democrat were here to say again, as forcefully and as effectively as he said things like that during his very active and very patriotic life.

NEW DIESELS

Strangely diesel locomotives came into general use on the railroads with but very slight changes in their design from the earliest models. They were made

Six-Inch Sermon

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER
Using the Bible

Lesson for October 15: Psalms 19: 7-11; Acts 8: 26-35
Memory Selection: Psalms 119: 11

THE BIBLE has one grand peculiarity that distinguishes it from all other books—it is a revelation of God to men. In the 19th Psalm we find a comparison between natural law and spiritual law. The will of God "preserves a uniformity throughout the universe. So does the law of God for the soul seek man's highest good. Thus the Bible not only reveals God's will to men; it also shows that through obedience to that will man can attain into the highest life.

The Bible is mighty in evangelizing men. Philip the deacon brought a great awakening to the people of Samaria by preaching of the things that would be and by being included in the Bible as the New Testament. Afterward, on the way to Gaza, Philip brought the Ethiopian eunuch to faith in Christ by his interpretation of a passage from Isaiah.

The Bible is a great testimony to Christ. Matthew evidently wrote chiefly for Jewish readers. He desired to show them that Jesus came in fulfillment of prophecy. Many things in the life and ministry of Jesus he connected with the predictions of the prophets. Thus Matthew proved that Jesus came as the long-promised Messiah.

So may we read the great Book as our guide to daily living and the record of God's gift to men in Christ. Jesus invited men, as they thought in the Scriptures to find eternal life.

larger and heavier with increased power, but in the main the idea was much the same as the original one. New one of the most prominent manufacturers is trying out on famous trains on the best-known railroad a revolutionary diesel design. It is 20 tons lighter than the engines it replaces; is faster and 29 feet shorter. Perhaps this is the first step in better adaptation of the newest power to railroad use.

BOOTS TRAPPING

Lifting one's self by the boot-strap is considered impossible. But working it in reverse, most anybody can defeat himself without any help from anybody else. The anthracite coal region has done that. Time was when anthracite had a strangle hold on the very life of all eastern cities. But anthracite became arrogant. People found substitutes. Now the people don't want anthracite. The same thing is true with any industry or any person who considers himself essential. He isn't.

PARAGRAPHS

Enthusiasts urge the propagation of muck oxen for food, hair and milk. But imagine running smackdab into a muck ox, with all that flynet mane on him! Swoosh! ... Joe Louis is going to have a boxing lesson from the boxing gloves that he ever had knocking out opponents in the ring. ... Science has developed a cure for "blue babies," but nothing has been done yet for Down in Washington congressmen, plugging a bill, speak of "only" a few million dollars! Shucks, yes — chicken feed!

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

"Do Unto Others . . ."

THE FOLLOWING STORY originated a number of years ago, and Oliver Simms, New York City, says he has had ample time to prove the benefit of what he learned.

He had been given the responsibility of directing the work of several men and women. The nature of the work was very exacting; even a small mistake could cause considerable trouble and be the means of creating a good deal of expense for the employer.

He was rather young and, as he says, possibly a bit over-zealous, and since he himself was a conscientious worker, more or less of a "perfectionist," he soon developed into a rather strict man. Everything had to be done just the right way, and invariably the right way was the way he wanted it done. He allowed no leeway. When a mistake occurred, he didn't hesitate to let the perpetrator know how he felt about it and how the company officials would feel about it. He always ended his remarks with "and we don't want it to occur again." Then he went about his own duties with no thought of how it affected the employee.

It wasn't long before he was recognized as a very unpopular person. Naturally!

But, fortunately, it wasn't long either before Oliver Simms realized his lack of popularity. He didn't feel he had a real friend in the place. He was an intelligent man; he knew that no one can work long among a group of people if they are not his friends. He began to take stock of himself. Then he recalled the golden rule. Remember it? In case you don't, here it is: "Do Unto Others as You Would Have Others Do Unto You."

Was he treating his fellow workers the way he would want to be treated? He, too, had made mistakes; he, too, no doubt, would make others, no matter how conscientious he was.

It took a little time to correct the situation he had created, but not so long as maybe you would think, for people are quick to respond to kindness, understanding and sympathetic interest.

CLARENCE J. BROWN Writes With a Buckeye In Congress

Look for selective price controls to be put in force soon after the election without accompanying wage controls, as the controls act seems to provide and congress intended. Some of the clever legal experts of the Truman administration are said to have found language in the law which will permit them to make the interpretation that the president has the power to put on price controls if there is evidence of sharp price increases, without at the same time freezing wages in the industries effected. Those usually in on the "know" in Washington are also predicting the president will permit wage increases in several industries, such as steel, before freezing prices of commodities produced in such industries, with control of prices coming before the wage increase is reflected in selling prices. The labor government of Great Britain has suggested the United States make both grants and loans for British rearmament, but the Truman administration is giving he cold shoulder to the grant or gift idea, simply because congress will not go along with it. There is also considerable question as to whether another British loan, even for rearmament, will be approved.

The American dollar, which was 100 cents at the start of World War II was worth a little less than 60 cents before the Korean invasion began and is now worth under 55 cents, in purchasing power. There is every indication the dollar's value in the market place will continue to decline as governmental actions now being taken or contemplated to control inflation are not expected to stop or reverse the trend.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From J. Elmer Camryn of Seattle, Wash.: "I remember when we went to the woods for nuts in the fall—mostly black walnuts—and how we prepared them for winter. By removing the hull and pounding them through the proper-sized knot hole or one bored through a plank. Then nailing a cleat on the sloping barn roof, and placing them one by one behind it to dry and cure. And the stained hands we had for a long time afterward. Most of the boys in school had 'em."

From Marie J. Chubb of Chicago: "I remember the good sponge candy we used to buy as children at candy kitchens or in school stores. We paid a penny for a bag. I sure wish I had some now!"

From the Rev. Robert E. Oughton of Kirkwood, Mo.: "I'm not much of an old-timer, but I remember when women used to raise children instead of poodle dogs."

From Mary Stewart of Chicago to Mrs. Minnie Cox: Do you remember "Won't You Come Over in My Yard," "She's Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," "Molly, I and the Baby" or "Down Went McGinty to the Bottom of the Sea"? Or the song that began, "Satan is a dandy, he'll feed you on Nick's candy, climbing up the golden stairs?"

FRANTIC EFFORTS TO SAVE THE DIKE

States. Crude rubber, wool, cottons, leather, sugar, hogs, some lumber, and many other commodities have dropped in price since the Inchon landing. However, most economists predict the commodity price will be only temporary.

A system or priorities to assure the channelling of certain materials and other strategic materials to the production of war equipment has been announced by the department of commerce. The system differs from the World War II priority arrangement, insofar as there are no various classifications or grades of priorities established. All consumers, outside of those engaged in the production of war supplies are now on an equal footing. Much stiffer credit control regulations are said to be in the making, which will call for higher down payments on real estate and all other long-term loans.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

FOR twelve years I have represented the people of the State of Ohio in the Senate of the United States. I have tried to represent the real interest of all the different groups that make up the population of Ohio, including its great agricultural interests. Ohio is a great agricultural state, the fifth in the nation, and agriculture is one of its greatest industries. I have kept in constant touch with the Ohio farmers and their representatives. I have had a part in all the constructive legislation in which the farmer has been concerned. I have taken particular interest in soil conservation and the soil conservation practices which have certainly increased production for the farmer on many of the farms I have visited.

The Brannan Plan, with its 100 percent guarantee, forces production controls not only for crops but for cattle, sheep, hogs, and even chickens. In England, where the Labor Government has complete control, it takes a farmer's farm away from him and operates it if he won't follow the rules.

But the farm price problem is one which requires special consideration because, again, the farmer is subject to such tremendous hazards in weather, in uncontrollable production, and in widely fluctuating free markets. It seems to me that the Government must step in when farming prices get out of line with all other prices. The resulting decrease in the farmer's income is not only unfair to the farmer, but is likely to throw many industrial workers out of work and bring about a serious depression.

I supported the Hope-Aiken Bill, which Secretary Brannan and President Truman approved until they found it politically advisable to attack the 80th Congress and the Republican Party in the 1948 election. The C.I.O.-P.A.C. is putting out a whole series of lies about my position on various agricultural bills. Farmers who are interested can talk to any officer of their own farm organization, and I am sure they will get a good report on the cooperation they have always received from me on the different farm problems which have come before Congress.

I believe in, and have supported, reasonable price support programs, but I have opposed the Brannan Plan. In this whole field I have worked with the officers of the American Farm

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED how often adopted children resemble their foster parents? Of course, under modern medical procedure the physical and mental characteristics of each child and adopting couple are as carefully matched as possible. But beyond this, mannerisms, attitudes, spontaneous reactions often make unformed observers exclaim, "Why, he's the image of his father, isn't he?"

This capacity for imitation leads us to expect that children will be like their parents—even in deficiencies. We shrug our shoulders at Jane's low spelling grade and say, "Well, her mother never could spell either." Jane has probably heard these words many times, and it may be this pronounced inability that is responsible for her difficulty. Some parents constantly underrate their children, forgetting that just as a son grows in height to tower over his father, many sons eventually surpass their parents in mental growth.

It's just as dangerous, of course, to overrate a child. Imagine how terrifying it must be to a mediocre student to know his parents have already registered him in a big name college and cherish hopes of seeing him graduate with honors. Not content with normal family likenesses, we make subtle efforts to make our children more like ourselves. A man who is mechanically inclined is apt to try to pry a quiet son away from constant book reading. Conversely, a scholarly father cannot help feeling his boy is wasting time puttingter with wires and screws. These disapproving attitudes on the part of the parents won't change a child's nature, but they can be damaging to his security. Teen-agers, especially, are apt to feel crushed when the weight of parental disapproval is added to overly harsh self-condemnation. A school teacher overheard an adolescent girl telling her friend, "The trouble with me is that I'm the kind of person my mother doesn't want me to associate with."

This does not mean that enthusiasms and worthwhileness of certain human relationships cannot be communicated by example. The pleasure Mother and Dad get from reading aloud to each other after dinner is the best possible learning stimulus to the children. And a father who bounds eagerly up the walk to be welcomed by Mother's "How good to have you home," accomplishes more toward giving children a healthy, joyous reverent attitude toward marriage than would any number of lectures on the subject.

We all know homes which fairly buzz with hobby activity. It is in such an atmosphere that children develop exciting new interests and often reveal totally unsuspected gifts. But don't be disappointed if they bear little resemblance to those talents you hoped your child would have!

in the production of war supplies are now on an equal footing. Much stiffer credit control regulations are said to be in the making, which will call for higher down payments on real estate and all other long-term loans.

FBI Gets Cases Of Delinquents

The charge against the men is that they failed to keep the draft board informed of any change in their addresses.

Asks Governor To Intercede

Dr. Charles Hill, president of Wilberforce university, has asked Governor Lausche to intervene in the dispute that continues between the two institutions at Wilberforce.

By court decision Wilberforce university is alone entitled to use the word "Wilberforce" in its name, the state institution being ordered to use College of Education and Industrial Arts at Wilberforce.

Mr. Hill claims the state school with which it shares the same campus violates the court order.
